

LOST DOG FOUND

FEATURING RACHEL SIERRA

Soul. Rock & Roll. New Orleans Jazz. Pop. Roots. Americana...

Lost Dog Found can be (and has been) described using lots of musical adjectives. Combining those genres into their own distinctive modern sound is where the band has set itself apart. Mash some Amy Winehouse, Bruno Mars, and Brian Setzer together, and you'll have a good idea of the band's sound.

In 2016 alone, the band played to thousands as they toured up and down the west coast, and their anthemic song, "The Big Stomper" was featured for a 2nd year in a national commercial for The Big10 College Conference. Adding Rachel Sierra has only brought an additional sexiness/party feel to their live performances, which were already regarded as one of the best around the San Francisco Bay Area.

Over the course of the band's 6-year history, they have appeared at hundreds of venues, city concerts, corporate events, & festivals, including at Disneyland, Google Chrome, SAP systems, Chase Palm Park, The Viva Las Vegas Rockabilly Weekender, etc.

Some of the bands awards and accolades include:

- 2016 Winner - The Bohemian - "Best Jazz Band"
- 2016 S.F. Deli Magazine "Best Emerging Roots Band"
- 2014 - Winner - Live 105/Santa Cruz Beach Boardwalk B.o.B's
- 2013 - Voted "Best Band" by readers of the Press Democrat
- Sept. 2014 "Blues Breaker of the Week" on House of Blues Radio

"This is a big, bold band that rumbles like a freight train hauling a heavy blues load down the line" - Rust Magazine

"Dine On Danger is a masterpiece. I'm fairly certain this is the first review of an independent band where I've felt compelled to use that adjective"
- IndieMunity.com
